You've Got Your COVID Vax Card: Now What?

Many Washington businesses are now offering incentives for those who provide verified proof of full vaccination such as discounts, freebies or preferred seating to events. Protect your vaccination card so you can take advantage of these special offers.

Here are some helpful tips to keep in mind when it comes to handling your vaccination card:

- DO keep your vaccination card between doses and afterwards.
- DO take photos of the front and back of your card to have a digital copy handy. Consider e-mailing it to yourself, creating an album, or adding a tag to the photo so you can find it again easily.
- DO take a photocopy if you want to carry one with you.

- DON'T throw it away or lose it!
- DON'T post a selfie online showing your vaccination card. Instead take a selfie and use our digital stickers by searching for #vaccinateWA or #wadoh! Remember to tag @WADeptHealth.
- DON'T laminate your original card. You may choose to laminate a photocopy to carry with you.

What happens if you no longer have your CDC vaccination card?

If you've misplaced or lost your card, don't worry! You can get official, verified proof of your COVID-19 vaccination online, for free. The MyIR website is an official state pathway to access proof of vaccination in Washington state. To get your copy, visit www.MyIRMobile.com or wa.MyIR.net to sign up for free. If you already have a MyIR account set up, you're all set!

*Please keep in mind that verification to your records through MyIR may not be immediate, and access is currently limited to English language only.

For language assistance, or additional help getting your records, you may also call the Washington State Office of Immunization and Child Profile during regular business hours at 360-236-3595 or contact by email at waiisrecords@doh.wa.gov.
