The Confederated Tribes of the Chehalis Reservation to Test the CodeRED Community Notification System

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Confederated Tribes of the Chehalis Reservation located in Grays Harbor Washington, will be using its Emergency Notification System, CodeRED, for testing on Feb. 4th, 2025, to validate telephone numbers in the Tribal and surrounding area's database. Here's what you need to know:

- There is no need to take action if you receive the call. Emergency personnel are merely testing the system to ensure it is operational as needed, and to encourage additional residents to enroll to receive future notifications.
- This process helps us continually improve the system. Testing increases the efficiency of the system and speed at which notifications will be delivered during an actual emergency.
- Visit our website to update contact information. If your phone number is not in the database, you will not receive a call when we do launch an important notification. www.chehalistribe.org

"Residents and businesses are encouraged to visit our website and update their contact information, in particular those individuals who have unlisted phone numbers, who have changed their phone number or address within the past year and those who use a cellular phone or VoIP phone as their primary number," according to Clint Davis, Tribal Emergency Manager. "The more residents who actively add or update their contact information in the emergency database, the better able we are to protect people and property."

The CodeRED system allows Tribal officials to effectively reach residents and personnel by using the system's capabilities to send telephone calls, text messages, emails, and social media posts to inform residents and better protect life and property.

Davis urges citizens to visit the Chehalis Tribal website, www.chehalistribe.org and click on the CodeRED logo. Questions regarding this system test should be directed to 360-709-1770.

About CodeRED from OnSolve
OnSolve is a leading global provider of SaaS-based critical communication solutions for enterprise, SMB, and government customers. The company's CodeRED™ solution provides high-speed notification services capable of reaching millions of people in minutes and has applied its mission-critical capabilities to government, commercial, healthcare and other end markets. More information can be found on the company's website at www.onsolve.com.