

CONFEDERATED TRIBES of the CHEHALIS RESERVATION

Fish & Wildlife Program

Attention Community

The Chehalis Fisheries Program is conducting a study to monitor juvenile salmon migration through the reservation. We will be tagging juvenile fish April through May and tracking their movements via acoustic (sound) receivers pictured here:

Receivers are tethered to trees with cables and fully submerged in the water.

Receivers will be in place through July. Please do not disturb the equipment as it has calibration settings that are very sensitive.

If you have any questions, concerns, or see anyone disturbing the receivers please reach out to the Fisheries Program at
